Coronavirus Update

If today’s figures for UK infections of up 407 prove to be right, it means the Government has completely lost control …

It makes me feel good….

It makes me feel good that already since yesterday 18 people have come forward to become Stinchcombe Saints

---

Saints Required.

Volunteers required, remember it won’t just be one section of the population self isolating,

Self Isolation over 70s – Could you help?

Could you Help? Pick up and deliver food, papers, post and whatever else?

So you think you have Coronavirus?

SO much out now on the web about Coronavirus, because things change, here is the current information

Coronavirus

This is the time to get to know your neighbours, especially if they are in the higher risk categories, to see what we can do for each other.
